Background:

“The end of all education should be a service and if a student gets an opportunity to render service while s/he is studying s/he should consider it as a rare opportunity and treat it not as a suspension of her/his education but rather a complement”- Mahatma Gandhi. This fellowship is the outcome of NIN’s legacy of Mahatma Gandhi’s association with this institute. It provides an opportunity to the aspirants to undergo a self transformation as well as bring changes in the society and public systems through Gandhian thoughts and values. A revisit to Gandhi’s vision vis-à-vis present day society and provide non-violent solutions would be the ultimate outcome of this program.

Aim

To reinforce Gandhian values in society by imparting education and training in the Gandhian principles. To establish National Institute of Naturopathy (NIN) - A living Memorial of Mahatma Gandhi as a Center for Gandhian Studies.

Objectives:

- a) To impart education and training in Gandhian thoughts through fellowships and other doctoral programs.
- b) To carve a health care model based on Gandhijis' vision of healthy India.

Eligibility:

Any graduate both Indian and foreign nationals are eligible for availing this fellowship. However, if these graduates are already sponsored by any agencies or receiving fellowships/ salary, they will not be eligible for this fellowship.

Course description

Out of the three fellowships, first fellowship will be audiovisual documentation, second would be on Naturopathy-Gandhian perspective and the third will be on the Social issues & Gandhian perspectives.

Audiovisual fellowship: The Fellows are expected to present audiovisual documentation in the form of short films, documentaries, animated videos, etc. at the end of the academic year, related to the topics mentioned above which were chosen by them at the beginning.

Naturopathy and Gandhian perspective:

The fellowship is in the field of physical and mental health with Naturopathy as the backdrop for interventions.

Fellows can take up field work for their project (health or social categories) which will not be funded by NIN.

NIN can support the work by providing necessary supervision and documentation.

Social issues and the Gandhian perspective:

Issues in sustainability, peace, non violence, governance, mental wellbeing etc can be Considered as a research project. This can involve field work or data collections from secondary sources. However, for purely academic topics under the social category fellows are expected to provide a plan for the secondary data they plan to collect.

The fellows are expected to work on the topic of their choice approved by NIN and conduct studies/reviews and should submit draft of their dissertation to NIN by the 5th month of the fellowship.

Rules and regulations:

- It is mandatory to submit the work done report month-wise to the course coordinator.
- The candidates have to submit a declaration letter and the original degree certificates will be retained with the institute till the course completion.

Modules:

The program consists of two weeks of induction classes in the Gandhian philosophy in different aspects. After this induction class, the students will be required to go to his/her field work in their selected fellowships. Students under Naturopathy and Gandhian philosophy will be guided at the National Institute of Naturopathy.

Assessment criteria and Final completion:

The students will be monitored and guided by the guides in the respective fellowships and have to complete the assignments and projects given by them. Approval of the assignments and the project will be considered as the criterion for the successful completion of the fellowship program.

Certification:

After the assessments by Gandhian scholars, the qualified candidates will be issued a certificate for Fellowship in Gandhian Philosophy.

Dissertations may be considered for publication in prestigious journals with the permission of the fellows.
